Diphtheria Could Spread
Over U.S.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Government disease detectives say
limited outbreaks of diphtheria,
the ancient child-killer, could spread across the United States,
with ghettos especially vulnerable.

They implied that any city in which half the children are not immunized could face an epidemic such as the one sweeping San Antonio, Tex.

A recent survey showed San Antonio had immunized only about half its children, compared with 70 per cent for comparable cities of 700,000 population. The city has listed 66 cases of the vicious disease this year
— 30 of them this month.

Experts of the U.S. Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta say 75-85 per cent of the nation's children are immunized against diphtheria, but they rate this as only fairly good.

The experts said in an interview that 23 states do not require pre-school shots with the triple DPT vaccine against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus or lockjaw.

Those states are Alabama,
Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North and South Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon,
Texas, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

They said that for maximum safety against all three maladies, children should get three shots of the triple vaccine a month apart, beginning at about 3 months of age—followed by a booster shot at age 1; another booster upon entering school;
and a booster every 10 years
thereafter.

Diphtheria is named for the Greek word "diphthera," meaning hide or leather.

That's because the ancient malady is characterized by formation of a thick, somewhat leather-like false membrane on the lining of the throat and other areas of the respiratory tract.

Rural Schools
in South Integrating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rural school districts in the South, many of which have waged long and bitter campaigns against integration, have begun opening for the fall semester with black and white pupils sitting in classrooms together for the first time.

No incidents were reported
Monday as scattered districts opened.

Seven South Carolina districts
began trying out unitary school systems for the first time.
Among them was Orangeburg,
where black pupils outnumber
whites.

South Carolina school officials called the day "routine."

In neighboring Georgia, several districts integrated for the first time. At Statesville, about 125 of some 600 pupils at Echols
County High are Negroes.

Echols County, like many others in the South, had been operating under a freedom-of-choice plan that brought about little, if any, desegregation.

Many Southern school districts are opening under court-ordered desegregation plans aimed at achieving racial parity and ending token integration. In Georgia alone, 81 districts have submitted desegregation plans
in response to Justice Department suits.

Thirty-nine other systems are under other court orders in Georgia and the other 69 districts in the state are either in compliance with federal desegregation guidelines or working under plans approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Classes began in four Alabama counties. Two of them,
Dallas and Randolph, were under orders to do away with the concept of separate schools for white and black pupils.

Officials of the Alabama Education Department said the Blount and Cleburne county schools already had done away with dual school systems and reopened on that basis Monday.

In Randolph County, one all-Negro school was closed and its 500 pupils were transferred to previously all-white or predominantly white schools.

Officer to Learn Date of His Trial

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) —
Lt. William L. Calley Jr., appears before a judge today for another round of legal maneuvering by his lawyers and could learn the date for his trial on charges of murdering Vietnamese civilians at My Lai.

Defense attorneys, led by George Latimer of Salt Lake City, spent Monday arguing for motions they hope will result in classified government documents being made available to them.

Latimer predicted after Monday's session that the judge, Col. Reid W. Kennedy, who is to preside over the trial, would set a new date for it to get under way.

It was to have begun Monday
but was postponed by Kennedy
so that the defense could present its motions.

It appeared likely there would be other postponements before Calley, charged with the deaths of 102 civilians, goes on trial.

Ross, basketball coach and Harold Alexander, Junior High basketball.

Coach Ronnie Higgins told the strengths and weaknesses, the plans and hopes for the Hope Bobcats for the coming football season. Coach Higgins and the rest of the coaching staff were guests and program for the weekly meet of the Lions Club
Monday at Town & Country.

In telling of the team and coming season the group learned that the original AA teams were back in schedule as in the past and that playoffs which started last year with A teams will include AA teams this year.

Regarding the team, 14 seniors
graduated last year and there will be some rebuilding in offensive work but the defensive lineup seems as good or better than last year.

Home games include Ash-
down, Sheridan, Arkadelphia, Camden and Malvern.

The program was arranged by Cecil O'Steen. Guests other than coaches were Claude Walker of

Little Rock, Dean Pruitt, a Lion
from Murfreesboro and Paul Morgan, Hope, a pharmacist
with Gibson Drug Store. Ed
Alderman of Hope was presented as a new club member.

Rules College Need Not Give Men Degrees

ROCK HILL, S.C. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has ruled that Winthrop College, the state college for women at Rock Hill, need not grant degrees to men.

The college admitted a few men on an experimental basis last school year. They were not to receive undergraduate degrees. Some of them were among the 10 males of Rock Hill and the vicinity who sued to open to men the only state-supported college for women in South Carolina.

But the court held, "The equal

Griffin Ends
Campaign
With Charges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
State Sen. Richard Earl Griffin of Crossett closed out his campaign for the Democratic nomination for attorney general Monday with another charge at Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.

Griffin said at a Little Rock
news conference that for the last four years ArkLa had not paid unclaimed customer deposits to the state as required by law.

Griffin said nonpayment of the deposits could "literally cost the state thousands and perhaps millions of dollars."

The senator's charge was in regard to the state's escheat laws, requiring the utility to turn over to the state deposits that are not reclaimed within seven years after a customer moves, dies or forgets about it.
Customers are required to put up a $10 deposit to obtain Ark-La service.

Griffin's opponent is Ray H.
Thornton Jr., of Sheridan, a nephew of ArkLa president W.
R. "Witt" Stephens. Thornton
was also an attorney for ArkLa before entering the race for attorney general.

Griffin's main campaign issue has been Thornton's connection with Stephens and Ark-La.

Thornton closed out his campaign Monday night by predicting that he would win the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

Thornton charged Griffin with using issues that were
"completely irrelevant" to the election.

"In the closing hours of this political campaign, we had hoped that the pattern of reckless and unfounded charges would be abandoned, and that my opponent would come to grips with the real issues of the campaign," Thornton said.

Thornton said Griffin had failed to discuss the real issues of the campaign — Law enforcement, drug abuse, consumer protection and anti-trust developments.

Breakfast For Bride-Elect

Miss Twila Hunt, bride-elect of James H. Pilkinton, Jr., was honored with a breakfast at the Heritage House on August 19. Hostesses were Mrs. Willard R. Burks of Hope, Mrs. Marcus L. Allen of Smackover, Mrs. Jack L. Royal of Little Rock, and Mrs. Thomas F. Carter of New Orleans. Miss Hunt chose a dress of bone linen for the occasion and pinned a white and pink corsage at her shoulder.

A beautiful centerpiece of white and soft pink asters was on the dining table, where places were marked for 20 guests. Mrs. Chester Hunt, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. James H. Pilkinton, mother of the groom-elect, were special guests and were also given corsages. The hostesses presented Miss Hunt with a lovely gift of linen.

Miss Hunt Is Entertained

On August 9 Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hays entertained Miss Twila Hunt and her fiancé, James H. Pilkinton, Jr., with a Sunday evening buffet supper at the Hays' lake house.

Among the ten guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hunt, Twila's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Pilkinton, Jim's parents. Bouquets of summer flowers and white tapers were used to decorate the dining area.

The hosts presented a cookbook with some of their special recipes as a gift to the young couple.

Bridge Club Meets

Mrs. Rob Jones and Mrs. Roy Wilson were guests of a Friday Bridge Club that met in the home of Mrs. Tom Kinser on August 21. Two tables of players enjoyed a pleasant afternoon in a setting enhanced by attractive potted plants.

At the conclusion of play, Mrs. C.C. Lewis and Mrs. R.E. Cooper were high scorers. Strawberry cake and ice cream were served for refreshments.

Mouser Family Reunion

The descendants of George and Phoebe Best Mouser held their annual reunion in Hope Fair Park Coliseum, August 6.

Interesting displays were shown of old documents, relics, pictures and a chart showing the Family Tree to the fifth generation of George and Phoebe Best Mouser.

Faye Hood Shuman of Texarkana gave an interesting talk on Patriotism and American Ideals. She gave informative data on the Mouser and Best Families who migrated from Kentucky to Missouri and thence to the Republic of Texas in 1824. Miss Tracy and Tori Henderson, Fort Smith, Arkansas and Miss Lisa Jean Bruce, Rockwall, Texas led the audience in pledging allegiance to the flag. The children of the Families led in singing the song "America." Prizes were awarded to the youngest, the oldest and the Family coming from the greatest distance.

Fred Mouser introduced the families who came from several states to honor the memory of their ancestors.

Protests as Prison Used as Courtroom

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — For the first time in the 118-year history of San Quentin Prison, court proceedings have been held within its grim confines. Demonstrators protested at the main gate.

"We're trying it out on an experimental basis," Presiding Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin County Superior Court said Monday as he held pretrial hearings for four convicts accused of crimes within the prison walls.

He set trial date for two of them, indicating that at least one would be tried here despite protests both inside and outside the impromptu courtroom that the defendants were being denied a public trial.

Woman Plans a Be Nice to a Man Day

By ROY MALONE

Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A 42-year-old business executive who calls herself a "liberated woman" is asking other members of her sex to forego the strike called for Wednesday by the National Women's Strike Coalition and instead make it "be nice to a man day."

"You get more with sugar than vinegar," said Jean Cordes. As head of the Aunt Mary Division of Lisle Ramsey Portraits, Inc., Mrs. Cordes supervises about 350 women in some 100 cities.

While she supports some of the movement's goals for equality of the sexes, Mrs. Cordes said she can't go along with "their abrasive methods and their self-destructive bitterness."

"I'm afraid they're going to make all of us—the silent majority of women included—victims of a male backlash that is certain to result from their tirades," she said.

Strike activities include marches, rallies, seminars, and a boycott of products the movement contends insult women in their advertisements.

Mrs. Cordes, who has a son 16 and daughter 15, was divorced last fall. She said the breakup was not due to her years as a working wife.

She began with the firm 12 years ago, selling family portrait plans part time.

Mrs. Cordes says women should be paid the same as men when they do similar work, but women should "get ahead on their own without expecting special consideration."

Some jobs are just not for women, she contends.

"I have never quite understood what is bugging the women's lib leaders except that a lot of them really don't like men or probably feel that they are not getting ahead in the world as fast as they should," she said.

Despite her fast climb to the executive offices, Mrs. Cordes says, "I still want to be treated like a woman—for a man to open the door, notice my perfume, notice me."

On Wednesday, she will treat "a pretty special man in my life" to dinner.

For others not manning the barricades she suggests a few ways of being nice to their men: dress up, use a good perfume, make a special dinner and keep the kids quiet.

Local Women Listed as Outstanding

The First Presbyterian Church announced today that Mrs. Betty Jo Hays and Palaley School PTA announced that Mrs. Jud B. Martindale have been selected to appear in the 1970 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America. Nominated earlier this year, both have been chosen for the award publication on the basis of achievements.

Now in its sixth year, the Outstanding Young Women of America program, designed to recognize the abilities of women between the ages of 21 and 35, was conceived by the leaders of the nation's major women's organizations. This program recognizes those young women who contribute to the betterment of their communities, professions, and country. Serving on the program's Board of Advisors are the national presidents of women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, Honorary President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Each year over 6,000 young women are nominated as Outstanding Young Women of America by leading women's organizations, college alumni associations, and churches across the country. These young women's complete biographical sketches are featured in the national volume, Outstanding Young Women of America.

Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Martindale will join these women in competition for their state's Outstanding Young Women of the Year Award. This fall, fifty of the young women included in Outstanding Young Women of America — one from each state — will be named as their state's Outstanding Young Women of the Year.

NBC news correspondent, Nancy H. Dickerson, who wrote the introductory message for last year's edition, said, "The young women honored by recognition in this book have made a good start... They can recognize the new acceptance they have and go forward to contribute even more in a more meaningful way than in the past, and hopefully enable a world which is so much more in need of their talents than ever before."

Guidelines for selection as an Outstanding Young Woman include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community and civic and professional recognition.

Mrs. Hays, wife of First National Bank President, Thomas E. Hays, Jr., is active in all areas of her Church's life as well as numerous projects for Hope including the Women's Auxiliary where she has been instrumental in bringing community day care service to our town.

Discrimination Hits Women, Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying job discrimination is more pervasive against women than racial minorities, a Senate panel urges new federal powers aimed at expediting equal opportunity for all.

The Labor and Public Welfare Committee's report Monday said the Civil Rights Act of 1964 had been widely violated by employers paying women less than men for the same work.

"This kind of blatantly disparate treatment is particularly obnoxious in view of the fact that this law has been in existence for more than five years," commented Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J.

While the act banned sex discrimination as well as that based on race, color, religion or national origin, Williams said the protections afforded women have been "regarded as a kind of legislative accident."

The report backed the committee's earlier endorsement of a bill which would give the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission authority to issue cease-and-desist orders against all types of employment discrimination.

The committee cited statistics for 1968 showing that male professional and technical workers averaged $10,152 while women in the same jobs got $6,691.

Figures for other occupations included: clerical workers, men, $7,351, women, $4,789; operatives (mostly factory workers), men, $6,058, women, $3,332; sales workers, men, $8,549, women, $3,461.

The knee is alive and well this fall and looks especially provocative when revealed by the new split-level skirts. A new Racing Stripe design in panty hose (left) comes in a brown shade and has inspired affinity for the brown-and-white midi costume with a split-level skirt that focuses attention above knee level. The matched look is the "in" look for fall and winter. Rib-textured panty hose in camel shade (right) complements the camel shade that predominates in the mo-saic print costume with its own matching scarf.

Women Rally for Rights Demonstrations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rallying round the goals of equal job opportunity, free abortions and 24-hour child care centers, women made final plans today for a Wednesday "strike for equality." One liberationist predicted "this nation will no longer be the same," after the demonstrations.

The National Women's Strike Coalition—with representatives of diverse feminist groups—planned to announce the names of four major corporations whose advertising, the women say, is offensive and degrading, and whose products should be boycotted.

The feminist cause got a boost Monday when Philadelphia Mayor James Tate proclaimed Wednesday "Women's Rights Day." Pittsburgh Mayor Peter Flaherty issued a similar proclamation earlier.

Tate acted after five women surrounded him in the hallway of a city building and complained that other city officials had turned down their request.

"I'm all for women's rights," said the mayor. "I'm all for women. I used to be pretty good with them when I was younger."

The proclamation reads, in part, "The cradle of liberty is apparently fearful of being rocked and is currently only willing to formally acknowledge that women may vote."

The Aug. 26 date of the strike was chosen to coincide with the 50th anniversary of final ratification of the 19th Amendment, which gave women the right to vote.

"After the vote," says Betty Friedan, one of the leaders of the National Organization of Women—NOW—"we haven't come such a long way baby. But we do have a movement. When those 24 hours (of Aug. 26) are over, this nation will no longer be the same. No one will be able to think the women's movement has been turned off, subverted or laughed away."

The demonstrations will take a variety of forms. There will be the traditional rallies, speeches, marches and workshops in many areas, including New York, Washington, Detroit and Boston.

In addition, however, women are being urged not to perform household chores they consider menial—"don't iron while the strike is hot,"—to bring their children to their husband's offices and to reject the role of consumer and stop buying for one day.

Counter-demonstrations were planned by some women who said they're liberated enough. A group called MOM—Men Our Masters—dubbed Wednesday "Preserve Femininity Day."

In St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Jean Cordes, a business executive, asked women to ignore the strike and make Wednesday "be nice to a man day."

In Santa Barbara, Calif., Mrs. Helen Andelin urged women to be "charming, angelic and kitten-like" and serve their husbands breakfast in bed.

won't make the first move, is it okay for the girl to? — And how? I've sorta tried, but you might say my "resistible force" doesn't make much headway against this immovable object. — NOT A SCHEMER

Dear Not:

If I know shy ones, your "resistible force" is probably no more than a half-hearted smile after he has turned his head away. He's "immovable," perhaps, because he is afraid of rejection — so make the first move with an invitation to a very informal party...or have one of your friends make it for you.

Then: make him feel welcome. After all, he's your guest and you have the right to talk first. — H. P.S. If he turns you down — well, maybe you guessed wrong and he's more disinterested than shy. Try elsewhere.

Dear Helen:

I've met a boy I dig a lot. He's out of school, and I still have three years to go. He says we can't really be together unless I smoke grass with him. It's like he can't grove on any girl who won't turn on with him.

I'm not interested in pot as I like to know what I'm doing and can have fun without it. But he's the neatest guy I know. All my girl friends say so too. Should I try grass, so I won't lose him? — P.A.

Dear P.:

If the only way you can keep a fellow is by going to pot with him, is he worth the trip? Would you really like to date someone who could only feel "together" while sharing a joint?

My parent's-eye view is: the guy is too old and too turned-off for a naturally turned-on girl. Don't you agree? —H.

Dear Helen:

I read that Jacques Esterel has designed summer dresses and skirts for men. If that is true, why aren't they showing them around our town?

I think that if girls can wear men's pants, then men should be able to buy skirts. They are comfortable and cool, and after all, men wore them in the Roman days.

All in favor of skirts for guys, say Aye! — M.C.

And then there was the wit that said: "I've given up trying to figure what makes my wife tick...I'm content to avoid getting her wound up!"

Once a woman starts looking at the new fall fashions, there is little chance of her unwinding, until she starts trying them on...regardless of the length you like your skirt, you are going to like the brand new things.

A wonderful way to start the season is with a Leslie Pomer 1/2 size dress. They are made of washable polyester and you will have to admit the new dark shades have a fresh look. They are beautifully tailored and the prices start $28.00. Perfect for right now!

If you like a soft, slimming knit, one that won't wrinkle ever...will make you look and feel pounds thinner, try on a Mia. If you, like us, thought you would ignore the pant suits and maybe they would go away...we have another think coming. We finally got it through our pointed little head, the reason that is. With the fuller legs and the softer lines, they are very slenderizing. They make a short woman look tall and they make everybody look slimmer. We carry them in all sizes, junior, misses and half...all we ask is that you try one on...

Yes, it is a fact we are all wound up with the new fall clothes, we invite you to join us at

Harrell No Compromise Athlete

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University Coach Bennie Ellender describes tailback Calvin Harrell as a "no compromise athlete."

That means Harrell meets a challenge head-on, asking no quarter.

For example, beginning the 1969 season, ASU still had not settled on a replacement for tailback Frank McGuigan who had gained 1,220 yards while helping the Indians win the Southland Conference in 1968.

After Harrell ground out 138 yards against a strong Citadel team in the second game of the season, there was no doubt who would replace McGuigan.

Harrell, a slotback as a freshman, had not been mentioned in the spring of 1969 when Ellender and his staff were considering candidates for McGuigan's job. Mostly, this was because of a hip injury.

"We had a void at tailback, an absolute need, and he was the prime suspect," Ellender said. "We liked his toughness and his size (6-1, 205) and we knew he could move."

"We think he is the strongest running back we've had," Ellender said. "He's also an extremely strong blocker and we think he will become an exciting receiver this fall. I would say he is about as dependable as any player I've been associated with."

Harrell gained 984 yards in nine games last year, including 161 in the title showdown with Abilene Christian and 160 in the Pecan Bowl victory over Drake.

The return of Harrell and other big play people of 1969 means ASU may make it three SLC championships in a row.

Junior, quarterback James Hamilton, a strong and durable 205-pounder, passed for 1,172 yards last year and ran for an additional 267.

"James improved his pass vision in the spring and has the quick arm that makes him a top passer," Ellender said. "He developed some leadership skills last spring that we've been looking for."

ASU still lacks the speedy deep receivers but Hamilton can throw to sure-handed Tom Johnson, Chet Douthitt, Joe Waleszonia and tight end Steve Lockhart who averaged 18.5 yards on 32 receptions.

Fullback Marshall Walls, who gained 584 yards last year, is also back.

Graduation claimed the Indians' four tackles, including All-American defensive tackle Clevie Swinney. All-American center Dan Buckley also graduated.

Ellender is hoping sophomore Cleveland Barfield of Little Rock and junior college transfer Criss Milwee of McCrory can fill the defensive holes.

The offensive tackles may be Dave Ruebsam, a backup man in 1969, and Steve Goddard, the No. 3 guard last year. Tom Flanigan will step in for Buckley.

Another plus offensively are guards Wayne Dorton and Bill Phillips, a pair of 245-pounders. "They are two of the largest linemen we've ever had and may be the best pair of guards around," Ellender said. "They are strong and quick and both are fast learners. We are looking to them for offensive leadership up front. Both are exceptional blockers on inside stuff and both can pull and lead the wife stuff. They'll be exciting to watch."

Linebacker Gary Cleve, a 218-pounder, should supply leadership on defense. In addition, three-fourths of the defensive secondary that intercepted 34 passes last year returns—Dennis Meyer, Terry Whiting and Donnie Beshears.

Meyer, a junior, intercepted eight passes last season.

"He improved maybe 50 percent in the spring and that is tremendous, considering we thought he was outstanding last fall," Ellender said. "He improved his speed and quickness and now is about 4.6 in the 40."

The key to the Indians' chances of repeating as SLC champs may depend on how they survive their nonconference schedule, which includes Wichita, The Citadel, Louisiana Tech and Southern Illinois.

"We've usually played one or two teams of this caliber (per season) in the past," Ellender said, "but I think anyone would agree this is by far the hardest schedule we've ever faced."

Casper Top PGA Money Winner

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Billy Casper is soft-spoken and mild-mannered, but he's a tiger on the golf course as the top money-winner on the PGA tour this year.

Casper gained sweet vengeance on one of his most frustrating layouts Monday, firing a three-under par 69 and winning the $160,000 Avco Classic by three strokes at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

"After that first round 81, the highest of my career, and failing to make the cut for the first time since 1964, I guess I was more determined this year," Casper said after winning his fourth tournament this season.

Referring to his nightmarish play in the 1969 Avco on the same 7,212-yard course, the 39-year-old Masters champion gained some extra satisfaction in his 47th tournament victory.

Just one year ago, Casper vowed, "I'll be back. This course owes me a bundle." He kept his word and returned.

"I wanted to make amends," Billy said after finishing with a 72-hole total of 277, 11 under par, in the 72-hole tournament delayed by torrential rain Sunday.

"I came here just hoping to do well and was more determined, especially in the first rounds," he said. "You can't figure on winning because a lot of things have to go your way to win a tournament such as this. I thought 280 would win it, so I'm very happy to be three strokes lower."

Casper, who has won twice as many tournaments as anyone else on the tour this year, swept past idle Jack Nicklaus as the season's top money winner. He collected $32,000, boosting his 1970 earnings to $139,585.

Winner of six tournaments in 1968, Casper isn't ready for any vacation this year. After signing autographs for youngsters for more than an hour after his Avco victory, he looked ahead to the $300,000 Dow Jones starting Thursday.

"If I play the way I played today, I should do very well," he said. "I'd like to win another one before the year is out."

Casper carried a one-stroke lead into the final round. He started with a birdie 2 on the first hole and shook off all challenges, calmly pulling out of an 11-man log jam.

"It seemed every time someone came within one shot of me I made a birdie," Casper said. "I felt real good out there. That rain-out was a blessing in disguise. I hadn't had a day off in about 2½ months and I think it helped."

Tom Weiskopf, bitterly disappointed and Ron Funseth, tied for second at 280. Funseth had a final round 66 while Weiskopf, an eight-time contender without a victory this year, faded to a 71.

"When I learn to putt, I will beat anybody," Weiskopf said.

Trailing Weiskopf and Funseth, another stroke back, were five players—Charles Coody, Mac McLendon, Larry Hinson, Lou Graham and Larry Ziegler.

Dan Sikes, Dave Hill, John Schroeder and host pro Paul Harney were bracketed at 282.

70 Redskins Instant Replay of 69

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1970 version of the Washington Redskins looks like an instant replay of the 1969 team with one exception—Vince Lombardi is missing from the sidelines.

Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen continues to throw the ball often and with much accuracy and split end Charley Taylor, tight end Jerry Smith and flanker Bob Long haul them in in vast numbers.

The Redskins' front four hasn't come up with a pass rush of any substance and it, combined with the line-backing crew, suffers from an inability to stop a running game.

That's the way it looks after three preseason games in which the Redskins have won two and lost one for Bill Austin, who took over the head coaching duties for Lombardi, confined to Georgetown University Hospital after undergoing two operations in one month.

The most potent weapon in the Redskins' offensive arsenal is the arm of Jurgensen, the National Football League's No. 1 passer last season.

Jurgensen, who turned 36 Sunday and has complained about a sore shoulder in recent days, has completed 41 of 55 passes in three exhibition games for 483 yards and seven touchdowns.

In winning his second passing crown in three years last season, Jurgensen had 274 completions in 442 attempts for 3,102 yards and 22 touchdowns.

But in Jurgensen the Redskins have another problem: What if he should get hurt?

The Washington backup quarterback is 34-year-old Frank Ryan, a veteran who led the Cleveland Browns to a championship in 1964. And he got in on only one play last season—the only one Jurgensen didn't.

Austin used rookie Danny Pierce from Memphis State for a little more than a quarter Friday night but said afterward: "He needs a lot of work."

A healthy Jurgensen, however, means woes for opposing secondaries and lots of joy for Taylor, Smith and Long, a trio many believe is the best in pro football.

Taylor, winner of the pass receiving title in 1966 and 1967, was second last year with 71 receptions.

Along with Taylor, Smith and Long, Jurgensen throws often to his running backs, Charlie Harrelson and Larry Brown.

Harrelson and Brown will carry the burden for the Redskins rushing game which has been less than adequate but should be improved this year because of experience.

It was defense, however, that the Redskins tried to improve most during the off season. Bill Brundige, a defensive tackle from Colorado, was Lombardi's top draft choice; Dennis Gatzert, a veteran middle linebacker, was obtained in a trade with Baltimore; and Floyd Peters, a veteran tackle, was picked up from Philadelphia.

The pass rush of the Redskins during 1969 was pitiful—their defense getting to the passer only 18 times as opposed to Jurgensen getting zapped 40 times.

On the defensive line this season will be ends Carl Kammerer and Leo Carroll along with second-year man John Hoffman. At tackle, in addition to Brundige and Peters, are Dennis Crane and another rookie, Manny Sistrunk.

Tom Weiskopf, bitterly disappointed and Ron Funseth, tied for second at 280. Funseth had a final round 66 while Weiskopf, an eight-time contender without a victory this year, faded to a 71.

"When I learn to putt, I will beat anybody," Weiskopf said.

Pretty Good Races Going on in AL

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Baltimore and Cincinnati, sitting on fat leads in the American League East and National League West races, hardly ever peek over their shoulders these days. But they ought to. There are some pretty good races going on back there.

The New York Yankees, a huge 11½ games back of the Orioles, are only one-half game up on Detroit in the battle for second place in the AL East after losing to Kansas City 8-7 Monday night. It was the first victory for the Royals in 10 games against the Yankees this season.

In the NL West, the Reds hold a hefty 12-game bulge over Los Angeles following the Dodgers' 4-2 loss to Chicago. But the action is a notch lower where just one-half game separates San Francisco and Atlanta in the jockeying for third place. The Braves tightened it up by blanking Montreal 6-0 on George Stone's three-hitter Thursday night.

All other teams had the day off.

The Yankees hadn't lost to the Royals all season but Kansas City made up for lost time by pounding Mel Stottlemyre and four relievers for 14 hits including three by Paul Schaal, who drove in four runs.

Schaal tripled home two runs in the third against Stottlemyre, then singled two more across as the Royals took the lead for keeps with three in the fifth. Tom Matchick also pitched in with a three-run double in the second.

Bobby Murcer delivered a pair of sacrifice flies as well as his 21st homer of the year for the Yankees.

Stone throttled Montreal, ending the Expos' five-game winning streak and moving the Braves within one-half game of idle San Francisco.

Leadoff man Mike Lum tagged Bill Stoneman for a first-pitch home run and Stone protected the narrow lead until the seventh when the Braves busted loose for five more runs four of them unearned. Rico Carty, Clete Boyer and Gil Garrido all contributed RBI-singles to that rally.

Stone struck out seven and evened his record at 9-9.

The Cubs moved within 4½ games of first-place Pittsburgh and only 1½ back of New York in the tightening NL East race by knocking off the Dodgers.

Ferguson Jenkins won his 16th game, scattering eight hits. Joe Pepitone drove in Chicago's first two runs with his 19th homer of the year.

Team Called Diamond in the Rough

SAN DIEGO AP — Charlie Waller called his San Diego Chargers "a diamond in the rough," and Jim Dooley merely said his Chicago Bears need more work.

While neither head coach was overjoyed, Waller laid claim to Monday night's National Football League preseason victory, a 14-9 decision for the Chargers who sputtered scoreless for three penalty-plagued quarters before pushing across two touchdowns.

"We don't look good but we win," said Waller. "That last drive was a thing of beauty but that's the way the game should be played."

He referred to a 72-yard drive engineered by second-year quarterback Marty Domres, who entered the game after veteran John Hadl got the Chargers on the scoreboard with a 15-yard swing pass to fullback Brad Hubbard.

Domres completed three of five passes for 45 yards, including a clutch 21-yard shot to Gary Garrison on a third-and-20 situation, before Dick Post ran 14 yards for the winning score with only 3:20 left to play.

"Penalties killed us in the first half," said Waller, whose team was assessed 132 yards compared to 86 against Chicago.

"Marty Domres did a fine job for San Diego," said Dooley.

"He picked them up. I was very impressed with the way the Chargers moved the ball in long pass situations."

"We have no excuses," the Bear coach added. "We just have to keep working on our offense and defense."

The Charger defense held Gale Sayers to 25 yards in nine carries and Bear quarterback Bobby Douglass completed only 13 of 33 for 117 yards, but he scampered 32 yards in four trips to lead Chicago on the ground.

Chicago's offense was virtually restricted to placekicker Mac Percival who booted field goals of 17, 20 and 30 yards and missed from 43 yards out in the third quarter. A 29-yard punt return by rookie Linzy Cole set up Percival's first three-pointer and Bill Staley's block of a San Diego field goal attempt paved the way for the Bears' second score.

Dick Butkus' recovery of a Charger fumble was converted into Percival's final success.

In off-field activity, wide receiver Willie Richardson continued a contract dispute with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Richardson, acquired in a trade with Baltimore last week, refused to report to training camp Monday unless the Steelers agree to renegotiate his contract.

"We absolutely refuse to renegotiate any contracts," said Steeler Vice President Dan Rooney. "It has not and never had been our policy to do so. He will be fined every day he's out of camp."

Rooney said he talked with Richardson last Friday, the day he reported to the camp at Latrobe, Pa. At that time Richardson said he wanted a new contract and Rooney refused.

Quarterback Fran Tarkenton of the New York Giants suffered a pulled groin muscle Sunday in the exhibition game with the New York Jets and may not be available for Friday night's game with Pittsburgh.

The Atlanta Falcons trimmed their squad to 60 players by cutting wide receiver Bobby Lee,

Mantle Begins Coaching Yanks Sunday

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle makes it plain he's not after Ralph Houk's job.

"I didn't come here for that purpose," the New York Yankee's newest coach said Monday, but he admitted he does have managerial aspirations.

Mantle, in an interview, pointed out that he first asked Houk's permission before joining the Yanks.

"I asked Ralph if it was okay with him," said Mantle. "I'd never push him out of a job—he's the best manager I ever played for."

The former Yankee star starts in his new capacity Sunday, when the team takes on the Minnesota Twins at Yankee Stadium.

"Although I like living in the Southwest best," he said he considered it almost imperative to come back to New York. "This is my city—the people have been so good to me here."

Mantle, who hit 536 homers during a record-wrecking career, was recently chosen as the fifth Yankee coach. His addition will have no immediate affect on the positions and responsibilities of the other four coaches—the team plans to use five the remainder of this year and again in 1971.

He will serve as a special batting coach, assisting especially the young players, occasionally working on the coaching lines and aiding Houk in a variety of ways.

"Why did he come back?" "I was getting tired of just sitting around in Dallas," Mick said, "and I wanted to do something in baseball—it's my first love."

Mantle said he wanted to get into managing in the future, but not necessarily with New York.

"We'll just have to wait and see how things work out this season," he said. "I won't be able to make a decision until after the season."

Mantle made his comments during a bash for one of his business ventures, a temporary help service. Football star Joe Namath, Mantle's partner, was also on the scene.

back no matter who finally wins the job," says Paterno, who has reason for being optimistic about his offense.

The line, centered around Warren Koegel, Vic Surman, Bog Holumba and Greg Edmonds, seems to be set.

The backfield should be in excellent shape, triggered by the elusive running of Lydell Mitchell and the brutal attack of Franco Harris, another potential All-American.

Steve Prue, shifted to end from linebacker, broke his hand in spring training but should grab one spot. Gary Carter and Frank Ahrenhold are leading candidates for the tackle spots.

Paterno has a problem, offensively, yet he doesn't have a problem.

Chuck Burkhardt, the nonflamboyant quarterback who led the Lions for three undefeated seasons, has graduated.

Paterno hasn't yet decided on Burkhardt's replacement, but he says that won't spell trouble.

Aggies May Become Public Pest No. 1

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Aggies are wide-eyed and talented enough to become public pest No. 1 in the Southwest Conference football race this autumn.

Their ultimate destiny in the SWC scramble could well rest on their pre-season fate.

Sophomores and juniors, by nature, are a confident lot. And A&M coach Gene Stallings has them in abundance—like eight juniors and three sophomores on offense and five juniors and five sophomores on defense.

The only likely starting senior is Dave Elmendorf at safety.

These young troopers of Stallings get an early test of their mettle. After a warmup against Wichita State in College Station they tackle Louisiana State, Ohio State and Michigan on enemy ground.

Stallings says "I hope we are healthy when we get around to conference play. But our folks will get some seasoning in a hurry with that early schedule."

The Aggies have been picked in the upper bracket of the SWC because of some talented sophomores—in particular quarterback Lex James and running back Brad Dusek.

"Lex can really be a good one," Stallings says cautiously. "He's really been consistent but I must emphasize you've got to wait until he's proved himself in varsity play before you can go overboard."

James from Houston can run the option full-throttle. He has a good arm and operates the Aggies' Wishbone-T smoothly.

And he's shown in freshman ball and in spring training that he can move a team—a la Edd Hargett of the Aggie 1967 championship club.

Dusek is a hard-running 207-pounder from Temple.

"It's unreal the balance the guy has," says an admiring James.

With the shoulder separation of Clifford Thomas, No. 1 half-back in the spring, Dusek and James will be joined by Marc Black and probably Steve Burks in the backfield.

The offensive line will feature center Mike Park, tackles Benny DeWitt and Andy Philley, and Mitch Robertson at tight end and Joey Herr at split end.

The defensive front four has only one veteran, junior Van Odum. The ends are Todd Christopher and Max Bird with Boice Best at the other tackle post with Odum.

The Aggies have numerous quality linebackers in Clifton Thomas, Kent Finley, Dennis Carruth, Bruce Best and Grady Hoermann.

The secondary boasts Elmendorf, Ed Ebron and David Hoot as the most reliable.

James says he's confident the Aggies can overcome their inexperience.

"There are some players on this team who can play for anybody," he says.

NCAA Places 2 Schools on Probation

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association placed two schools on probation Monday and reprimanded two others for violations of NCAA regulations.

Placed on one-year probation were the State University of New York at Buffalo and Saint Norbert College of West De Pere, Wis. Jackson State College of Jackson, Miss., and Southern University of Baton Rouge, La., drew reprimands.

Names of individual students involved were not disclosed.

Saint Norbert drew the most severe penalty in that it won't be permitted to engage in post season basketball competition. Warren S. Brown, director of NCAA's enforcement division, said an athlete from the school participated in basketball games on a tour of Czechoslovakia, although the tour was not certified by the NCAA.

The State University of New York, the only one of the schools in the NCAA's University division, was penalized for two violations. One involved financial assistance in excess of that permitted by the NCAA; the other, permitting seven athletes who received financial aid to practice football and basketball even though they did not meet the necessary requirements.

The school discovered the latter violation and took immediate steps to correct the situation, Brown said, and for this reason the school was not restricted from postseason games.

Brown said the Jackson State case involved refusal of the school to recognize ineligibility of two basketball players who participated in an unsanctioned tour of the Caribbean last year.

Southern University was reprimanded for two violations, one a player participating in the Sunbelt Invitational track and field meet in Los Angeles which was unsanctioned, the other a payment of room and board for a student which the NCAA held was not an athletic grant-in-aid.

Len Dawson Back on Crutches

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Len Dawson is back on crutches and he says he can't play against the Falcons in an exhibition game at Atlanta Saturday night.

The veteran quarterback's left foot was injured last Saturday in the Kansas City Chiefs' 16-13 victory over Cleveland at Memphis, Tenn.

He soaked the swollen, discolored foot in ice water Monday while Mike Livingston, Jacky Lee, Tom Flores and John Huarte did the quarterbacking on the practice field.

Trainer Wayne Rudy said Dawson had a sprain in the forward arch area. X-rays showed there was no fracture.

Last year Dawson hurt his left knee and hobbled on crutches—out of action—for six games before coming back to lead the team to the AFL and Superbowl championships.

South African Gary Player and Masters champion Billy Casper are doubtful participants.

"I just don't know what I'm going to do," said Player, who usually doesn't start his American tour until March. "The PGA dates are opposite the South African PGA dates."

Casper hasn't played in Florida since he was stricken with an allergy attack there two years ago and almost fainted on the course.

"I haven't decided yet," Casper said.

If the Tournament of Champions is played next year—and it's still listed as "under negotiation," they probably will have two PGA champions competing.

There's a precedent for it. There were two New Orleans Open champions in the last T of C—Larry Hinson and Miller Barber.

Bobcats Get in a Good Practice

After a sluggish practice Monday morning, the Hope Bobcats had a fair afternoon practice with some good hitting.

The Bobcats have been practicing on the pro-type offense with quarterback Ronnie Massanelli, who has a fine arm, passing to his receivers. The team will have to go to the air this season, as it does not have any breakaway backs with any size or speed.

The offense looked especially good with the passing attack beginning to take effect.

Workouts will continue through the week with expected scrimmages beginning later on, preparing for the home opener against Ashdown, a 7-A powerhouse.

Frederickson Still Thinks About Past

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
BROOKVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — The year was 1964 and the names up for grabs in the National Football League draft included Gale Sayers, Joe Namath and Dick Butkus.

But the guy who went No. 1 was Tucker Frederickson.

It is six seasons, two knee operations and a chipped ankle bone later, and Frederickson tries stoically to face what might have been.

But sometimes, when he isn't careful, he thinks back to those days when his name—and his potential—led all the rest.

"As far as living up to anything, I haven't. But it's not that I never tried. And it's not that I couldn't have. I think I could have," he says.

So did the New York Giants, who tapped the Auburn running back No. 1, saw him run, block and pass-catch with such natural ability and instincts in 1965 that there was little doubt they had made the right choice.

Then, in 1966, Frederickson ripped up his right knee, and in 1967 his left knee and, in 1969, when he thought he had overcome the mental problems connected with those injuries, ankle problems cropped up.

"I thought I was going to quit," he said. "I was 90 per cent sure. But when this season came around, I got caught in the fever of it. I had a talk with Alex (Giants' Coach Alex Webster) and the Maras (the club owners) and I'm here."

So he battles for a job, tries to ignore the past and catch himself whenever he thinks about the possibilities.

"It bothers me—not having made it," Frederickson acknowledged. "If it didn't I wouldn't be a good athlete or a normal person. And it would be tough to give it up—maybe it's something I should have done. Only you keep hoping it'll all get together."

PGA Shifts Tour to February

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
UPPER MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) — Notes from the pro golf tournament trail:

The PGA National Championship, shifted from its usual late summer dates and to be played in Florida in February, could be in trouble from the standpoint of drawing players.

South African Gary Player and Masters champion Billy Casper are doubtful participants.

"I just don't know what I'm going to do," said Player, who usually doesn't start his American tour until March. "The PGA dates are opposite the South African PGA dates."

Casper hasn't played in Florida since he was stricken with an allergy attack there two years ago and almost fainted on the course.

"I haven't decided yet," Casper said.

If the Tournament of Champions is played next year—and it's still listed as "under negotiation," they probably will have two PGA champions competing.

Laver Defeated at St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
St. Louis (AP) — John Newcombe of Australia and Andres Gimeno of Spain split a $1,000 doubles purse Monday night by defeating Australians Rod Laver and Roy Emerson 6-4, 6-2 in the delayed windup of the $30,000 Rawlings Tennis Classic.

Cool Weather 'Crossed Up' Hog Drills

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Razorback coach Frank Broyles said Monday that cool weather "crossed up" the opening day of drills.

Broyles said he had hoped the weather would be hot.

"It turned cool and we couldn't see what shape we're in," he said.

The Razorbacks spent the first day of practice with a pair of two-hour drills in shorts and T-shirts. The first practice in pads is scheduled for Thursday.

Sophomore quarterback Joe Ferguson was sidelined with a back ailment. Broyles said he did not know if Ferguson would be able to work out today.

Broyles said the Razorbacks needed hot weather to get ready with their opening game with Stanford on Sept. 12.

Sikes Wins $2,960 in Avco Classic

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — R. H. Sikes of Springdale, Ark., shot a one-under-par 71 Monday to finish the Avco Golf Classic here with a 72-hole total of 283.

Sikes' share of the $163,000 prize money was $2,960.

Billy Casper won the tournament with a 277 total and moved into the top spot as the leading money winner of the year. His share of the prize money was $32,000.

S. African Ahead in Tennis Meet

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Fifth - ended Cliff Drysdale of South Africa registered a hard-earned victory over the United States' No. 1 junior, Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., Monday as first-round play started in the $25,000 Marlboro Open Tennis Championship at the Orange Lawn Tennis Club. Drysdale beat the 18-year-old Stanford University sophomore 6-4, 7-6 with a 5-2 edge in the deciding tie-breaker game.

Rod Laver and Mrs. Margaret Smith Court, the Wimbledon champion, start play Tuesday in the competition which has a $4,000 top prize in the men's division and $2,000 in the women's.

Steve Turner of New York forced Ray Keldie of Australia to the limit before losing in the first round, 7-6, 6-4. Turner is the current National Junior Champion.

Brian Fairlie of New Zealand defeated Brian Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 6-4, 3-6, 6-1; Tom Koch ousted Dick Dell of Bethesda, Md., 6-1, 6-2, and Allan Stone of Australia eliminated Haroon Rahim of Pakistan, 6-4, 6-2.

Kerry Melville of Australia eliminated Mrs. Betty Grubb Hansen of Santa Monica, Calif., 2-6, 6-4, 6-0. Mrs. Judy of Australia defeated Russia's Marozova Kroshina 6-0, 7-5.

Denise Carter of Los Altos, Calif., came from behind to score a 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 victory over Corinne Molesworth of Great Britain. Australian Helen Gourlay was a 6-2, 6-4 winner over Lany Kaligas of Indonesia.

Intrepid, Valiant Meet Today

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Intrepid and Valiant meet today in their series to decide the U.S. representative in the America's Cup yachting match.

The American finalists were paired after the New York Yacht Club America's Cup committee eliminated Heritage from the series Monday.

The committee has until Sept. 13 to name a defender for the cup match, to start two days later. The Australians and French have the same time to determine a challenger.

Intrepid and the Australian yacht Gretel II posted victories in preliminary matches Monday.

day. Intrepid, revived from mothballs after winning the cup in 1967, defeated Heritage by seven minutes and 30 seconds over the 24.3-mile course. Gretel II defeated the French yacht France, by 1:32.

Gretel II took a 3-4 lead over the France in their best-of-7 series.

The lead in their race Monday changed hands six times before Gretel II went ahead to stay on the next-to-last leg of the course.

Their series resumes Wednesday, because the French asked for a day off.

Miss Walsh Victorious in 1st Round

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Constantly berating herself for missed opportunities, top-seeded Sharon Walsh of San Rafael, Calif., scored an easy opening round victory in the U.S. Women's Amateur Grass Court Tennis Championships at Wilmington Country Club here Monday.

Miss Walsh, the national 18-and-under champ, beat Alice Valentine of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, 6-3, 6-4.

Another Californian, second-seeded Janet Newberry of La Jolla, ousted Silvie Hooks of Newark, N.J., 6-2, 6-0. Gail Hansen, third seed from Palo Alto, Calif., eliminated Sherry Bedinofield of Hialeah, Fla., 6-1, 6-3.

Britain Over Canada in Team Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain seized an insurmountable 3-0 lead over Canada Monday in their semifinal series of the World Seniors team tennis tourney when Jaroslav Drobný and Gerry Oakley defeated Jean Marois and Jacques Giguere of Quebec 7-5, 6-2, 6-0 in the doubles match.

The final two singles matches will be played Tuesday, but the doubles victory assured the British of a shot at the United States team, defender of the Stevens Cup, in the championship series beginning Thursday at the West Side Tennis Club.

Drobný, the former Wimbledon champion from Czechoslovakia who now lives in London, beat Marois and Oakley topped Giguere in Sunday's singles matches.

It has been estimated there are 30 million dogs in the United States.

THE WELL CHILD

Interesting Booklet For New Mothers

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A new mother can't start protecting her baby too soon. With this thought in mind, Dr. S. C. Southard has produced an excellent pamphlet, entitled "Congratulations to the New Mommy." The booklet is built around three key words—protection, obedience and responsibility. It can be had for 15 cents from your local Easter Seal Society or the National Easter Seal Society, 2023 W. Ogden Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60612.

Q—My 13-month-old son wakes up screaming nearly every night. What could cause this? Will he outgrow it?

A—Night terrors are usually seen in children who are high-strung or sickly. They usually outgrow them after several years. You may be able to shorten the period by making your son's waking environment as calm as possible and by making sure he is in good physical condition.

Q—My daughter, 7, jerks and tosses a lot when she is sleeping. Is this serious?

A—A certain amount of shifting of one's position during sleep is normal at any age. A child who is overly tired, however, will jerk and have a very restless sleep, especially in the first two or three hours after going to bed. You should see that she gets to bed a little earlier and that she avoids exciting games or television just before her bedtime.

Q—My niece, 4, wakes up almost every night. Should we ignore her, spank her or give her paregoric?

A—Every effort must be made to assure her that her parents or guardians love her. Try to find out why she wakes up. Usually it is from a sense of insecurity. Above all, don't spank or drug her for waking up.

Q—Our son, 3, has ringworm. How did he get this fungus disease? Is it serious?

A—The three parasitic fungi that cause ringworm are common in our environment. Infection with them depends on a personal susceptibility rather than on contagion. The organisms grow best in areas of the skin that are warm and moist. The disease is not serious but is often hard to get rid of and has a tendency to recur. Several effective fungicides are available, such as half-strength Whitfield ointment, undecylenic acid (Desenex), tolnaftate and triacetin.

State Projects in Public Works Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate approved Monday by a 62-1 margin the Public Works Appropriations bill for fiscal year 1971.

The senate followed the recommendations of the Senate Appropriations Committee, according to Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

The projects for Arkansas are:

- The Arkansas River locks and dams, $25,333,000 for planning.
- Bayou Bartholomew, $260,000, planning.
- Bell Foley Reservoir, $160,000, planning.
- DeGray Reservoir, $8,500,000, construction.
- De Queen Reservoir, $1,030,000, construction.
- Dierks Reservoir, $1,600,000, construction.
- Garland City, $135,000, construction.
- Gillham Reservoir, $900,000, construction.
- Little Rock levee, $433,000, construction.
- Narrows Dam, $150,000, construction.
- Ouachita and Black Rivers, $5,750,000.
- Ozark Lock and Dam, $11,700,000.
- Red River levees and bank stabilization below Denison Dam, $3,200,000, which represents $600,000 over the amount appropriated by the House.
- St. Francis Basin, $7,300,000, which was $2 million more than approved by the House.
- Lower White River-Big Creek and tributaries, $140,000 for planning.
- Clarendon Levee, $45,000.
- Cache River, $150,000 for construction.

Says Liberals Obstructing Welfare Reform

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern today disputed claims that Senate liberals are obstructing the administration's welfare reform bill. But he urged several revisions, including one for full federal control.

The South Dakota Democrat said he would offer amendments to eliminate options for state or county operation of the proposed Family Assistance Plan.

"Full federal administration makes the most sense because only through such unitary control will state by state variations be eliminated," he said in testimony prepared for the Senate Finance Committee.

Subversives Blamed for Explosion

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A blast that destroyed a University of Wisconsin military research center, killed a physics scholar and injured several other persons apparently was the work of subversives using an explosives-laden truck investigators say.

Frank Roberts, deputy state fire marshal, said the explosion had "unbelievable power. This is no kid stuff."

A university engineer said damage may exceed $6 million.

The FBI and military intelligence took over the investigation. A spokesman for Gov. Warren P. Knowles said the two agencies would coordinate the probe because of the center's extensive use of federal funds.

The pre-dawn explosion Monday prompted demands for increased security patrols at the campus, where destructive student demonstrations have forced officials to call for National Guard reinforcements three times since February

Finds More Segregated Classes in North Than Before Court Edict

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government endorsement of housing discrimination during the first half of the century is to blame for segregation in Northern schools, a congressional committee was told today.

Sixteen years after the Supreme Court ordered an end to separate but equal schools for blacks and whites, there are more segregated classes in the North than ever before, said Robert L. Carter, president of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing.

"While white America has talked of integrated schools and residential areas, its practices have fostered segregation," Carter said.

His remarks were prepared for the Senate Equal Educational Opportunity Committee which is exploring the status of integration and problems in achieving it.

Five decades ago, when blacks began migrating to Northern cities and whites began moving to the suburbs, Carter said, private realtors, builders and lenders did much to prevent blacks from moving out of what soon became city ghettos.

But he blamed local, state and federal housing programs and pre-1948 court actions enforcing racially restrictive covenants as having "by far the most significant influence on the intensification of residential segregation outside the South."

The courts outlawed such discriminatory real estate deeds in 1948.

"Prior to 1950, the Federal Housing Administration required racial restrictions in deeds, openly advocated housing segregation and enforced practices aimed at producing—and which in fact did produce—separate black and white residential areas," Carter said.

After 1950, the FHA adopted modified rules but never implemented them, he said.

"Federal public housing agencies condoned, supported and subsidized the building of 'separate but equal' housing for black people throughout the nation," he said.

About the same time, Carter said, Northern school educators began to enforce school assignments by neighborhoods. This effectively imposed housing segregation on the schools, he said.

When challenged now to change this segregation, Carter said, school officials suggest segregated housing was an act of God and beyond their control.

"Housing segregation and school segregation should be considered equally unlawful," Carter said.

"In general, white Northerners favor the separation," Carter contended.

"The present administration has supported these sentiments by condoning 'de facto' (neighborhood pattern) school segregation and expressing an unwillingness to move against it, North or South," Carter said.

"To concentrate on 'de jure' (officially ordered) school segregation without taking steps to eliminate or minimize 'de facto' school segregation is to indulge in a meaningless charade," he said.

There is no fundamental difference, he said, adding: "They are both rooted in racism."

Hijacker Fooled the Plane's Pilot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Trans World Airlines jetliner, hijacked to Cuba by a husky young man who wore an Army uniform and "fooled the pilot," landed safely early today at Philadelphia International Airport.

The Boeing 727 touched down at 4:53 a.m., 9½ hours after it was originally scheduled to arrive Monday at 7:33 p.m. on a flight from Las Vegas.

The hijacker, who boarded the plane on a military half fare ticket, left the plane at Havana. The other 79 passengers and a crew of six returned to Philadelphia after a stop in Miami. Two FBI agents also returned with the plane from Miami.

FBI agent Oliver Revell said the passenger manifest identified the hijacker as Robert J. Labadie.

The pilot said the man showed him a military identification card with the same name on it.

The hijacker, riding in the first class section of the Philadelphia-bound flight told a stewardess to order the pilot of TWA flight 134 to Cuba or he would signal a friend in the coach section to set off a bomb.

The hijacker, described as in his late 20s, boarded the flight in Chicago. He took over as the plane passed Fort Wayne, Ind., and allowed it to land in Pittsburgh to refuel before making the hop to Havana.

The plane returned to Miami at 1:36 a.m. today where FBI agents and Army intelligence officers questioned the pilot, Capt. Warren George of New York City.

An airline spokesman in Miami said the pilot reported the hijacker boarded on a military half-fare first class ticket and wore an Army uniform with the single stripe of a private first class. The spokesman said the hijacker told the crew he had been in Vietnam and was really an Army captain.

An unidentified stewardess carried his messages to the pilot, the spokesman said.

He said his "accomplice" was an Army ordnance man who made the bomb.

The spokesman said the hijacker insisted that the curtain separating the first class and coach sections remain open so his "accomplice" could see a signal in case things went wrong.

There was no accomplice and only the man in the soldier's uniform got off in Havana, said Nancy McLemore, TWA spokeswoman here.

At 2:42 a.m. the flight took off for Philadelphia without unloading its passengers in Miami. Two FBI agents boarded the flight to question crew members and the passengers on the two-hour flight North.

"The captain said he thought it was a bluff," said Mrs. McLemore.

She said George told her he made no attempt to overpower the hijacker.

The hijacker gave no reason for his desire to go to Havana, she said.

Role Of Press Restated

One of the recognized leaders in journalism today, and the head of an organization of newspapers bearing the family name, John S. Knight, has redefined the essential role of the press in terms of present-day situations.

His redefinition can be found in his recent remarks at Ohio University at Athens when he received that institution's Carr Van Anda Award for his "enduring contributions to journalism." "A courageous and responsible press," Knight declared, "should:

- "Audit government at all levels.

- "Expose corruption, both in public and private affairs.

- "Turn the spotlight on the private world of a man nominated to the Supreme Court.

- "Interpret social change - fearlessly and honestly.

- "Maintain the sanctity of an accurate news report.

- "Uphold the view of Judge Harold Medina that of 'all constitutional rights, the freedoms of speech and assembly are the most perishable, yet the most vital, to the preservation of American democracy.'

- "Preserve the right of dissent, remembering that while history has been filled with attacks upon dissenters, there were also moments when dissent led to change, and where speaking out in an unpopular cause has shifted the nation's course by changing the persuasion of its citizens.

- "Have the wisdom to differentiate those willful violators of the law who cannot draw the line between dissent and disobedience."

It is time for restating and redefining many phrases and terms, and Newspaperman Knight does this with "freedom of the press" in a wise and perceptive manner. -Wichita Falls (Tex.) Times

Little Change
in Weather
for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little change in the fair and mild weather is expected in the state through Wednesday.

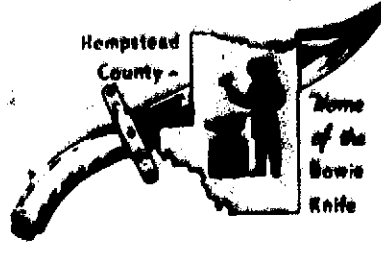

No rainfall was expected before the weekend.

A high pressure area was dominating about 90 per cent of the nation's weather today with the only exception being the Florida and southeast coastal area and along the Canadian border west of the Great Lakes.

Temperatures are expected to remain cooler than usual at night with sunny days.

Highs Monday ranged from 94 at Fort Smith to 83 at Harrison.

U.S. Envoy to Act as Go-Between as Middle East Peace Talks Open

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — With U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring as go-between, Israel, Jordan and Egypt today open the talks called for in the U.S. peace plan for the Middle East.

Ambassadors from the three Middle East adversaries had appointments in succession at U.N. headquarters with the Swedish mediator who for nearly three years has been trying to nudge the Arabs and Israelis toward a peace agreement.

This procedure of talking to one government and then to another is the one Jarring has followed in the past, and this procedure will continue. The Arabs refuse to negotiate face-to-face with the Israelis, and while Arab agreement to talk in the same place with their foe was some concession on their part, there was no indication that Egypt and Jordan would ever agree to sit down at the same negotiating table with Israel.

Jarring told newsmen he feels sure the three governments have "the firm intention of finding a solution."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant expressed "cautious optimism."

Jarring was meeting today with Israel's chief delegate to the United Nations, Yosef Teikoah; Jordan's ambassador to

Told That Inflation
Cooling, Nixon Turns
to Foreign PolicyBy FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP)

President Nixon, bolstered by reports that inflation is cooling down, turned his attention today to hotspots of foreign policy from Vietnam to the Middle East.

He called in Secretary of State William P. Rogers, national security advisor Henry A. Kissinger and Joseph Sisco, assistant secretary of state for Middle East affairs, for a Western White House meeting.

Their talks came at about the same time the first formal Middle East peace talks begin at U.N. headquarters in New York.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President planned to review the whole range of foreign policy and he played down any special significance to the gathering.

All three officials were on hand Monday to join Nixon in greeting 48 news executives from 13 Western states who received a foreign policy briefing and a Mexican luncheon served around the swimming pool at Nixon's oceanside home here.

Another poolside party was scheduled this evening for 125 California Republican candidates and their spouses. They are campaigning for offices ranging from state boards and legislature to Congress.

In work sessions Monday, Nixon concentrated on the state of the nation's economy with a foursome of key economic officials and got good news.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, reported afterwards that Nixon was told his anti-inflation policies are beginning to show results and the economic picture is "quite encouraging."

Korea Takes Hard Line on U.S. Plan

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

SEOUL (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew conferred for nearly six hours today with South Korean President Chung Hee Park about the troop withdrawal the United States wants to make from Korea and the U.S. aid Park wants to offset the reduction in American forces.

Agnew said the talks went "very well," but they lasted far beyond the two hours that had been scheduled. The vice president said he expected to resume his discussion with the South Korean leader at dinner tonight.

Agnew announced on his arrival Monday that the United States will provide South Korea with additional military aid to modernize its armed forces. No details are expected until after an American study of South Korea's military needs and talks between technical personnel of the two governments.

American sources say the Koreans are seeking a $3 billion, five-year program, more than four times the $140 million a year currently being provided.

Korean sources have indicated Park would demand concrete assurances of U.S. aid before dropping objections to Washington's plans to withdraw 20,000 of the 62,000 U.S. troops in Korea.

Agnew's lengthy session with Park indicated the South Korean president and his aides laid out in considerable detail their contention that the U.S. withdrawals, part of the worldwide reduction of U.S. forces, could leave this staunch American ally open to a new invasion from Communist North Korea.

Miss Folger and Frykowski were houseguests at Miss Tate's mansion the night of Aug. 9, 1969, and were slain along with the pregnant actress, hair stylist Jay Sebring, and Steven Parent, a friend of the caretaker.

Noguchi said Miss Folger, who shared a bedroom at the Tate home with Frykowski, had 2.4 milligrams of MDA in her blood and a .05 per cent alcohol. Frykowski, he said, had 6 milligrams of MDA.

A narcotics officer said outside court that 2.4 milligrams of MDA probably would put a person fully under its influence. He said the drug often causes hallucinations similar to the effects of LSD.

No drugs or alcohol were found in either Miss Tate or Sebring, Noguchi said. Tests on Parent showed .2 per cent alcohol.

An officer said the amounts of alcohol found in Miss Folger and Parent probably would not cause intoxication.

Noguchi said Miss Folger and Frykowski, who both died of multiple stab wounds, had "defense wounds" on hands and arms, indicating they tried to fend off the killers.

He said Miss Folger obviously was "trying to guard herself from further injury" and Frykowski put up a long, violent struggle.

The coroner said Miss Folger was stabbed 28 times in the face, neck, breast, abdomen, back, shoulder, left thigh and both arms and hands. Frykowski, he said, was stabbed 51 times, any seven of which could have been fatal, and was shot twice and hit on the head 13 times, perhaps with a gun butt.

Noguchi said Sebring bled to death after being shot once and stabbed seven times.

2 Victims in Tate Case on Drugs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two victims in the Sharon Tate murders were under the influence of a hallucinogenic drug similar to LSD when they were stabbed to death, the coroner says.

The two-coffee heiress Abigail Folger and Polish playboy Wojciech Frykowski—had taken the drug MDA, autopsy reports showed. But their wounds indicated they put up a violent struggle against their killers.

Coroner Thomas T. Noguchi, testifying as a state witness, discussed the autopsy findings Monday at the murder-conspiracy trial of Charles M. Manson, 35, hippie-type clan leader, and three girl followers—Susan Atkins, 21, Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, and Leslie Van Houten, 20.

Cambodians
Drive Back
Red AttackBy T. JEFF WILLIAMS

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)

South Vietnamese and Cambodian warplanes drove back attacking North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces to the north and south of Phnom Penh today, military spokesmen reported.

The enemy assaults were launched overnight against the battered village of Prek Tameak, nine miles northeast of Phnom Penh, and against the frequently attacked town of Saang, 19 miles south of the capital.

Fighter-bombers and Cambodian gunboats on the Mekong River came to the defense of Prek Tameak, which was overrun last week by a strong enemy force. The village is on the eastern side of the Mekong, while Phnom Penh is on the western bank.

A Cambodian spokesman said the Viet Cong were held back at Saang by a South Vietnamese AC47 gunship that circled most of the night, dropping flares and spraying the attack routes with rapid fire from its three 7.62mm miniguns.

There were no casualty reports from either Prek Tameak or Saang. Some observers believe the attacks are part of an enemy attempt to establish a foothold to harass the Phnom Penh area.

The South Vietnamese air force reported that its A1 Sky-raider bombers flew 24 sorties in the past week within a 6 to 15 mile radius around Phnom Penh, strafing and bombing North Vietnamese and Viet Cong positions.

In South Vietnam, action continued generally light. In one clash in the Mekong Delta 110 miles southwest of Saigon, South Vietnamese forces claimed killing 23 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops with the help of air and artillery strikes. South Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

Two skirmishes were reported around Fire Base O'Reilly, near the Laotian frontier, which has been under sporadic attack for more than two weeks.

The U.S. Command said North Vietnamese troops fired on a reconnaissance patrol of the 101st Airborne Division three miles northwest of the base, killing one American and wounding five. Two miles south of O'Reilly, seven enemy were killed in a clash with South Vietnamese forces, which reported light casualties and no dead.

At the other end of the country, five rounds of Viet Cong mortar fire slammed into the Ba Chuc village market 115 miles southwest of Saigon. A government spokesman said 10 South Vietnamese civilians and a soldier were killed and 42 civilians were wounded.

An American OH58 observation helicopter was shot down Monday 20 miles northeast of Saigon, killing a crewman and wounding three others.

The monthly report on pacification from the computerized Hamlet Evaluation System estimated that 92.4 per cent of South Vietnam's population was living under relative government control during July. This was an increase of 1.3 per cent over June.

Jail Escapees Recaptured

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — Three prisoners who escaped Monday morning from the Baxter County Jail here were captured Monday afternoon.

Sheriff Don Cockrum said Leonard Naugle, 21, of Gainesville, Mo., and Howard Estes, 23, of Summit were apprehended about 3:30 p.m. near Mountain Home. Cockrum said the two were arrested after a woman reported that two men had stopped at her home and asked for a drink of water.

Cockrum said Ronald Smith, 17, of Midway was arrested a couple of hours earlier.

Race to Get
Top Attention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Democratic race for attorney general was expected to attract most voter attention in today's primary voting other than the gubernatorial race.

The combatants for attorney general are state Sen. Richard Earl Griffin, 31, of Crossett and Ray H. Thornton Jr. of Sheridan.

The Republicans put up no candidate for attorney general, but John Norman Warnock of the American Party is waiting to take on the Democratic victor in the November general election.

A statewide Democratic primary also was held for lieutenant governor among Dr. Bob Riley of Arkadelphia, state Rep. James Harrell of Russellville, Kenneth C. Coffelt of Jacksonville, Paul Mah of Dumas, Odie O. Wilson of North Little Rock and Bill L. Nelson of Rogers.

The Republicans voted for a lieutenant governor nominee between state Rep. Sterling R. Cockrell Jr. of Little Rock, who bolted to the GOP earlier this year, and Gerald Williams of North Little Rock.

Hubert L. Blanton of Hughes, the American Party candidate, will compete with the Democratic and Republican nominees in November.

The GOP also voted in the primary in a race for secretary of state between former state Rep. Jim Sheets of Siloam Springs and John Thompson of Morrilton.

The Democrats and Republicans will conduct a total of 52 primary races Tuesday for seats in the Arkansas Legislature.

Contested Democratic primary races will be for 33 seats in the House and 13 in the Senate. An unusually large number of five contested races will be held by the Republicans for House positions.

Fourteen of the Democratic incumbents in the House have primary opposition and 41 incumbents seeking re-election are unopposed in the primary. None of the four Republican House members is opposed in the primary.

Twenty-six of the 35 positions in the Senate are up for election this year. Eight senators chose not to run for another term.

Voting in Hope
Is Moderate

Voting was moderate in both the Democratic and Republican preferential primary elections this morning, a trend that appeared to be statewide.

A check of most of the Democratic precincts in the City of Hope about noon indicated about 1,000 votes had been cast. The two Republican precincts in the City indicated nearly 100 votes cast.

As in the past voting is expected to pick up during the afternoon and after plants close later in the day. The polls close at 7:30 p.m.

Crossover Vote Views Different

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties have different views on the issue of crossover voting, an issue that might prove crucial if either party has to hold a runoff primary Sept. 8.

Odell Pollard of Searcy, the Republican party chairman, said Monday he thought the crossover voting is not necessarily forbidden.

Charles Matthews of North Little Rock, the Democratic state chairman, said his position was that the crossover was illegal.

Most observers believe that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller will capture the GOP nomination for governor in the primary election today, making remote the possibility of a need for a runoff on the GOP side.

But with eight candidates seeking the gubernatorial nomination in the Democratic primary, a runoff is viewed likely.

The crossover can be a tactical maneuver. To employ it, a voter who casts a ballot in one party's primary today merely "crosses over" Sept. 8 and votes in the other party's runoff.

Voting in both primaries today is expressly forbidden by state law, but there is disagreement over what the law provides regarding a crossover from today's primary to a Sept. 8 runoff.

DeWitt Youth Electrocuted

DEWITT, Ark. (AP) — Duke Young, 15, of DeWitt was electrocuted Monday while working on a farm about two miles south of here.

Many of the state's estimated 125,000 Negro voters, however, are expected to vote in the Republican primary because of the fight there between Hampton, who says his election would show that Arkansas is in the forefront of good race relations, and Rockefeller, who is popular among blacks.

Rockefeller's other opponents are Lester Gibbs, 64, a former state tax collector, and former radio evangelist James K. "Uncle Mac" MacKrell, 69, who ran third in a nine-man Democratic gubernatorial race in 1948.

Others in the Democratic race are lawyer and former FBI agent Robert C. Compton of El Dorado, former state Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage, businessman James M. Malone Jr. of Lonoke and W. S. Cheek of West Memphis.

Faubus, who remembers on the campaign trail his days as a barefoot boy in the Ozark Mountains and as an itinerant fruit picker, has criticized Rockefeller and his wealth, and has charged that the governor has mismanaged state funds and has been too lenient with prison paroles and too lax in prison security.

Rockefeller has said that continued reform of the state penitentiary, where conditions have been declared unconstitutional by U.S. District Judge J. Frank Henry, and the need for increased state revenue were the chief issues in the campaign. He has said he would ask the 1971 legislature for more money.

Each is a racial moderate. The votes of the state's anti-Faubus whites and of blacks, who remember Faubus for calling out the National Guard to prevent nine Negro children from desegregating Little Rock Central High School in 1957, could be decisive.

Faubus' closest challengers were said to be two-term Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell, 46, state House Speaker Hayes McClerkin, 38, and Dale Bumpers of Charleston, 45, a politically unknown lawyer.
